Dear Sir:—I am in receipt of yours enclosing your Company's draft for $20.019 in payment of first five years' dividend under Policy No. 179,668, Limited Payment Terminal En. dowment issued to me five years ago for $5.000, at age of 31, with annual premium of $199.00. This to me is a very gratifying exhibit, being a considerable in excess of what I anticipated or was led to believe I would receive when I insured. A little calculation shows that your company has returned me in first dividend end of five years, an amount equal to 6½ per cent, compound interest on all of the premiums paid from the date of the policy, and goes to show that the "Old Ætna" is managed with consummate skill and ability. As far as my information goes, this is a result produced by no other company. After this unlooked for, pleasant experience, I assure you that it is a real pleasure for me to publicly pendorse the company, as I have herectofore privately done, and advise my friends and the public to place the security of their families in the "Old Heliable Kina." The Village of Punta Brava Near That City Burned.

Several of the Inhabitants Said to Have Been Burned to Death in Their Dwellings-Arrival of the Steamer Triton With Spanish Soldiers Wounded in the Engagement at Cascarajicoara-Insurgent Incendiary Shot.

HAVANA, May 4.—The insurgent leaders, Mora, Villanauva and Delgado, at the head of about 1,000 men, have burned the vil'age of Punts Brava, near this city. The Spanish forces from San Quentin, and the guerilla forces from the neighboring forts, attacked the insurgents and repulsed them with the loss of forty killed. Several inhabitants of the village are said to have been burned to death in their dwellings.

The plantations of Mapos, San Fernando and Nativided in the district of Santi Spiritus, province of Sants Clars, have been compelled to suspend the grinding of cane; the insurgents have threatened to burn the plantations unless they ceased work.

Antonio Scoorereas, son of the noted insurgent leader of that name, was among those who were killed at the last engagement at Lechuza, Pinar del Rio. The steamer Triton has arrived here with the soldiers who were wounded in the recent engagement at Cascarajiscara. Btopped Work Yesterday.

Newport News, May 4.—About 1,000 men stopped work and demanded wages at the shipyard of the Newport News Ship-building and Dry Dock Company here to day. This action on the part of the employes was brought about by the new time system which went into effect to-day. This system is called the clock system and each man has a key and registers his own time.

The workingmen claim that much time in the morning and at dinner is lost on account of having to wait in turn to register. A largely attended meeting of the workmen was held at the Opera House to-night and resolutions were adopted endorsing the action of the machinists, boilermakers and blacksmiths, who turned over their keys to the company and quit work to-day.

The men are fully determined that Questing Him to Make a Neutrality Proclamation.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Representative Woodman, of Illinois, to-day introduced a resolution providing that the House of Representatives directly request the President to make an immediate proclamation that a condition of war in Cuba is recognized and that it is the purpose of this Government to preserve a position of neutrality and that the United States will look with especial disfavor on the continuance of any methods of warfare not recognized in the rules of war as practiced by the leading nations of the civilized world.

In the preamble it is recited that "the executive department of the Government has not seen fit to act on the almost universal recommendation of the people, as expressed by both branches of Congress," and that the situation in that most unhappy island is becoming a stench in the nostrils of Christendom; the murders, the outrages, the barbarities and horrors perpetrated by the Spaniards in Cuba are so notorious that civilization itself stands appalled.

The Week's Programme Shattered by Unexpected Motions.

WASHINGTON, May 4.- The outlined rogramme for the Senate procedure this week was shattered early in the day's session by two unexpected motions. When the intended action to tions. When the intended action to consider the river and harbor bill was attempted, it was antagonized by a motion to consider the Dupont election case. Mr. Mitchell, with considerable display of feeling sought to prevent this, but, by an aye and nay vote, resulting 32 to 31, the Senate decided to take up the Dupont case. Later an agreement was effected to poetpone the matter until the river and harbor bill was passed; the final vote in the election case to be taken two days after consideration was begun.

At 2 o'clock Mr. Peffer occasioned another flurry. At that time the bond resolution was laid before the Senate as the unfinished business. It was supposed the resolution would give way, but Mr. Peffer insisted on going on, saying he had yielded to three appropriation bills and he would yield no longer.

mr. Sherman said he thought the bond resolution should be acted on promptly. Mr. Frye, in charge of the river and harbor bill, finally moved to proceed with that bill. When the vote was announced Mr. Frye remarked that he was indifferent to the result, but it should be understood that this action was a rerious blow to the river and harber bill.

Mr. Hill then secured the floor taking up the thread of his speech opposing the bond resolution begun many days ago.

Mr. Hill referred to the "Massachusetts and Maryland combination" in speaking of the votes of Mr. Lodge and Gorman just given favor of the bond resolution. The Senator spoke of Mr. Pfeffer's recent course in striking out of the resolutions the offensive insinuations against the Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. Hill responded that this debate had forced the author of the resolution to strike out the offensive statements.

"I would have the Senate treat John G. Carlisle just as a Democratic House of Representatives treated John Sher-

BASEBALL YESTERDAY.

The Reanokes Lost a Good Game to Portsmouth.

This is how it was done. Roanoke played in hard luck, and the visitors put up a fast, snappy game and hit the ball opportunely. The home team played a good game but were outplayed at all points by the Grangers from the Eastern Shore. It may be said that Marr took a very conspicuous part in the well-earned victory of the visitors by pulling down Grove's apparent three-base hit, when the bases were full.

For the Mountaineers Wrigley and Cockman carried off the fielding honors by going after everything that went their way and "Pop" Tate the batting honors. He was at the bat five times and got four hits and was presented with a base on balls. Cheesbro and McNamara were the opposing pitchers. Both men put up a good steady game with honors about even, but that same old case of hard luck that lost us so many games last year seemed to strike the boys in yesterday's exhibition. When men got on bases the batters would invariably knock an easy one to the infield and a double play was the result.

the infield and a double play was the result.

Then again the Mountaineers did not seem to be able to hit the ball until after two men were out. Whitehill started the ball rolling by going to first on a fumble by Magee, and scoring on a hit by Tate. The latter also scored on a wild throw by Rollins to third.

The locals were blanked then until the fourth, Wrigley made a two-base hit and scored on a ball knocked to Heilman, who let it pass him. This ended the run getting for the locals.

The Grangers were blanked in the first inning, but in the second Reiman hit safely and crossed the rubber on the three-bagger made by Hargrove.

The visitors succeeded in scoring one run in the fourth, one in the sixth and one in the seventh inning, and in the eighth three men chased over the rubber after two men were out, which won the game easily. The score:

Sensational Evidence in the Trial of Jackson Yesterday.

William Trusty, of Urbana, Ili., Testified

That He Was Employed to Drive a Cab From Cincinnati With the Dead Body of a Woman Taken From the Tenderloin District of That City. NEWPORT, Ky., May 4 -J. B. Locke, who owns the farm where the body of Pearl Bryan was found, testified that he found two spots of blood on the he found two spots of blood on the ground, and also found blood on the leaves of the bushes. He also said that he saws marks of the wheels of a carriage on the grass close beside the gate which led from the road to the spot where the body was found.

He went up the roadway from Cincinnati to see if he could find where the carriage had turned and found no marks of that kind. This corroborates George Jackson's story, according to which the carriage turned on the road in the other direction.

The most sensational evidence was given to-day by William R. Trusty, of Urbans, Ills. He was a brakeman on the Southern railway at the time of Pearl Bryan's murder. He testified to meeting Emma Evans at 10 o'clock on the night of the murder. They were joined by an old doctor whe was a friend of the woman. Through these parties Trusty was employed to drive a cab. They stopped at a house on George street in the Tenderloin district, where the doctor carried the body of a woman from the house into a cab.

Then they drove across the Newport bridge and stopped near the place where Pearl Bryan's body was found next morning. The old man drove back to Cincinnati. Trusty testified that they drove a gray horse and rig similar to the one that George Jackson described. The old doctor, whose name Trusty never learned, gave him ten dollars for the job.

Trusty afterwards returned to his home in Urbans, Ill., where he told the story about this midnight drive to his father. The witness identified certain letters on cross-examination. One was to Pearl Bryan's father from William T. Trusty, the father of the witness, stating that Trusty and his son were related to a detective, and that they could solve the mystery of Pearl Bryan's murder. Mr. Bryan referred the letters to Mr. Hays, his attorney.

Mr. Hays, his attorney.

Mr. Hays afterwards received letters from Trusty soliciting employment for himself, telling him that the defense would prove that Pearl Bryan died in Cincinnati and that he and his son and their cousin, who is a detective, could thwart this evidence.

The cross-examination also showed that their cousin was John Seward, who had considerable experience in working up testimony. The prosecution has presented evidence that William R.
